

Greeting from Dean of UGSVS

I have begun my 3rd term serving as Dean of UGSVS from April 2013. There is an innovation in veterinary science education at undergraduates now, and graduate schools also face to change. The education in graduate schools has two roles. One is the support for international research, and the other is the place to make new leaders for future of science. For playing the two roles, I would like to ask you, all members of UGSVS to support them. (ISHIGURO, Naotaka Dean of UGSVS)

2013 The entrance ceremony

The entrance ceremony of 2013(spring) was held jointly by UGSVS and UGSAS at the university auditorium on April 12, and the new 21 graduate students entered UGSVS. At the ceremony, Pres. MORI, Hideki encouraged them at his speech "It is very important for research to make continuous efforts". After the ceremony, ceremonial photo was taken. Then there were the guidance for enrollment.

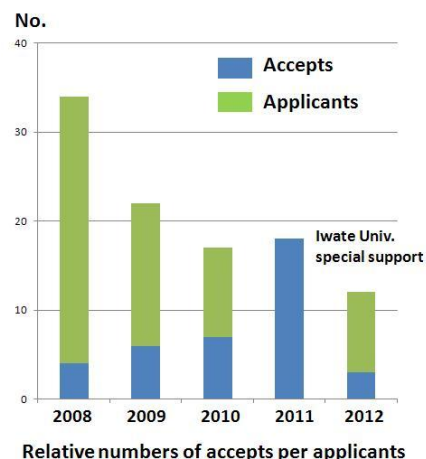

News of UGSVS Board of Representatives

Revise the discretionary budget by Dean of UGSVS

The research support to graduate students has been contributed for 5 years and the collaborative research activities by faculty members have been taken for 3 years. Many students applied for the projects at the beginning and they had been worked as good projects. However, applicants decreased as shown on the right figure, and the use of support fee was delayed.

Also, the external funded projects such as Program for Enhancing Systematic Education in Graduate Schools and Institutional program for Young Researcher Overseas Visits were finished at the end of March 2013. As the two projects are continued from the budget of UGSVS this year, we revise the projects from the discretionary budget by Dean of UGSVS and start to discuss to make change it with emphasis on the development of young researchers. The program for the development of young researchers and the program for young researcher overseas visits are taken by the discretionary budget by Dean of UGSVS.

"Greeting from Senior Tutor"

I was assigned to a senior tutor in April 2013 from National Veterinary Assay Laboratory, Ministry of Agriculture, Forestry and Fisheries. I make effort to appeal UGSVS research and education with the 4 universities and the 4 collaborative institutes, so I would like to ask your support.

(ASAI, Tetsuo Senior Tutor)
